REMEMBER THE BOYS

To the Public:

ON JULY THE FOURTH

Acting upon the suggestion of R.

M. Larner, a thirty-third degree baseball fan, the sporting editors of the Washington daily newspapers will undertake to give the orphans and as many other poor boys of Washington as possible a good time on the Fourth of July. The plan is to send as many boys of the several orphan homes and as many outside of these institutions as the fund will permit to the morning game of baseball on July 4 between the Washington and Cleveland teams at American League Park. Further than this it is proposed to supply each boy with a bag of peanuts or popcorn and let him have all the lemonade at the grounds he may wish. The suggestion of Mr. Larner has met the approval of the sporting writers of this city, as well as very many citizens of Washington. At a meeting held June 1 it was decided to solicit contributions, small and large, from the general public. These sums may be sent to any one of the three daily newspapers of Washington, addressed to the "Boys' Baseball Fund," and will be duly acknowledged through the columns of the paper receiving such subscription.

Every cent of the fund will be expended for the pleasure of the poor boys of Washington. They will be carried to and from the grounds at the expense of the fund, and their little outing shall be entirely free

To start the ball rolling, we ask that the generous citizens send in their contributions as soon as possible, so that the committee will be able to make arrangements for the care of the boys. The greater the fund the larger the number of boys who will be given a Fourth of July outing at America's greatest

Senators' Work Presents Little Change, No Better, No Worse-Faltering in the Field and Weaker at Bat.

Patten Takes Bumps Good Naturedly-The Times to Discontinue Its Score Service After Today.

The Senators are plodding along in the same old rut. Their style of plays appears unchanged-no better, no worse.

Case Patten came in for his bumps yesterday and despite the patched up team St. Louis faced him with, all looked alike to the sturdy Browns, and base hits fairly rained.

It was reasonable to suppose Patter would win his game, as he is the acknowledged mainstay of the club, but alas and alack, it is the same old story, four straight defeats since the club's

Every day dispatches apprise us that this manager has secured so and so and another some one else, yet no such glad tidings greet us at home. Clarke Griffith is now on a still hunt for players and is in Philadelphia bent on that errand. Would it not be advisable for him to come a little farther south? Possibly a few of our "stars' would help him out and their loss would be little felt here.

For Morality's Sake.

It has ever been the policy of The Times to promote all that is pure and healthy in sports, and in accordance with this policy it has devoted un limited space to sports, and baseball in particular. Furthermore, at a heavy expense, The Times subscribed to a baseball news service, whereby the local fans could receive the scores of all games in the American League, by innings, the returns being attractively displayed on a large blackboard on the Tenth Street side of the building.

Upon the team's return home, this service was still continued, enabling those prevented from attending the park to watch the game at second hand. Of late, the crowds have dwindled to a mere handful of people, and when defeat seems inevitable, with fierce muttering it vanishes entirely. Yesterday afternoon twenty-five faithful dyed-in-the-wool fans watched the score with bated breath. A gleam of hope was written plainly on the face of and every one. Then came the fifth inning, that awful fifth. Then this crowd melted like a five cent piece of ice on an August day, hurling fierce invectives upon the heads of the poor unconscious and struggling Senators. Since The Times also has the morals of its readers at heart, it deems it advisable to remove temptation from the rooters' path, and in consequence after today this service will be discon-

Each club in the league seems to be the little fellows out to the Washington having its turn at leading the proces- game. I think that we should have some sion. That the race is exceedingly ing to inflict upon them the penalty of close is shown-by the fact that although seeing the Washington Baseball Club ripped out three. the White Sox did not play Tuesday they play. Why not send them down the dropped from first to third, being passed river under the guidance of competent by both Boston and St. Louis. Last year, when three clubs were rather close together, the race was referred to as being unusual, but it was nothing to that of today when only fifteen points cover the first four clubs and only thirty points separate the first from the fifth, while the sixth and seventh clubs are within easy call. There is only one club in the entire outfit which seems to have a safe hold on its good sport was enjoyed, though no big present position, and that is Washing-

Coaching Annoys a Few.

There are not a few who believe that the game of baseball would be improved the Long Bridge for an hour without a WADDELL BRINGS HIS if the coachers were called in from the bite, using minnows and soft shell crab lines and the base runners placed on for bait, they procured a dozen and a their own responsibility.

Of course, there are many others who argue that coaching tends to enliven the seven of which weighed in the aggregame, which might otherwise become dull and prosaic.

There is merit in both propositions. There is coaching and coaching.

Sudhoff proved a complete puzzle to he Prodigals all the way through yes terday afternoon, while his team mates and himself alighted upon Case Patten's delivery and sorely punctured his record as a pitcher. These few lines tell the sad, sad story. The St. Louis team made its initial bow to a Washington audience, and so well pleased was it with the reception accorded and the good thing Tom Loftus set before it in the pitching line, that it has deded to remain for two more games one each today and tomorrow. A shower of base hits by the Browns, an even dozen in all, and a fast fielding game by that patched-up team, coupled with the Senators' ragged fielding and abortive efforts at the bat is responsible for the fat score rolled up by the men from the Mound City.

Four hits, two two-baggers by Delehanty, and a single each by Carey and Mcran, is the sum total of the Senators' stick work.

Rather discouraging, this, when it is aken into consideration that this is row a daily occurrence. The score:

HENO WINS EASILY

000 ten days ago, finished a poor third in a field of four, Heno winning easily by three lengths.

There were four horses entered for the Standard. Of this number three-Heno, Africander, and Major Daingerfield-represented $75,000. Heno, two years ago, was sold to Clarence Mackay for $20,-000. Deimel & Dwyer, owners of Africander, refused $30,000 for the colt six weeks ago. Major Daingerfield was recently purchased for $25,000. The other contestant, Sunshower, has a value only to her owner, Jere Dunn.

Africander, was a strong favorite at 7 to 10, with Heno second choice, at 3 to 1, Major Daingerfield at 4 to 1, and 1 to a suburban lot.

All the horses met on even terms and carried weight for age. Africander and Heno set a terrific pace for a mile and a half journey and alternated in the lead at various stages. At the end of a mile they were head and head. They continued in company until the turn for home, where Africander weakened and Heno went on alone, winning by three lengths, in the track's record time of 2:33.
